We will define first of all the template model, we realize that in the paragraph.7. G.

The screenshot displays a software interface for managing email templates. The top navigation bar shows 'Main menu / Police file/Lodging/Cards/Rack / 7.G. Email templates' and 'User: admin1'. A table lists email templates, with one entry highlighted: Code 100, Description 'Envío Confirmación de Reserva', and Content 'Por la presente le adjuntamos &...'. A red box highlights the 'Example' button next to this entry. A red arrow points from this button to a preview window titled 'Edit Email template'. The preview window shows the template content: 'Por la presente le adjuntamos', a placeholder '#@1@#' for a name, 'Las facturas', a placeholder '#@2@#' for an invoice number, and 'En Perillo a #@3@#' for a date. A legend at the bottom explains the placeholders: '#@1@#': Personification (Right Alignment), '#@2@#': Invoices / Charges, and '#@3@#': Date (Centered horizontally). To the right of the preview is a preview of the final email content, including a list of invoices and a date.
